

YUCKETYPOO

THE MONSTER THAT GREW AND GREW BY JILLY HENDERSON-LONG

YucketyPoo tells the story of a creature which grows from the rubbish left lying around by the townsfolk. Threatening to take over the world, it is down to a little girl to save the day. Poems take you through the story and introduce you to the ponds and the fishes living there.

Jilly shows children through her charming rhyme that to make the environment a much nicer place to be they must discard their litter responsibly. Aimed at children aged 5yrs to 7yrs YucketyPoo shows how dropping litter and discarding rubbish irresponsibly can create a monster pile of rubbish.

YUCKETYPOO - GROWING

*TV in the flower bed.
Now the monster had a head.
Speakers moulding on the stairs.
Now the monster had some ears.
Broken china on the heath.
Now the monster had sharp teeth
Schoolbooks soggy by the drain.
Now the monster had a brain.
If only everybody knew,
how that monster grew and grew.*
